

1. Were you in the library yesterday?

There are two simple ways to ask where people have been. The first asks, literally, "Where they were..." (using где expressions).

— Ты был(а) в библиотеке вчера?	Were you in the library yesterday?
— Ты был(а) на концерте на прошлой неделе?	Were you at a concert last week?
— Ты был(а) на вечеринке в прошлые выходные?	Were you at a party last weekend?
— Ты будешь на лекции завтра?	Will you be at the lecture tomorrow?
— Ты будешь на уроке русского языка в субботу?	Will you be at Russian class on Saturday?
— Ты был(а) в России в прошлом году?	Were you in Russia last year?
— Ты будешь в России в этом году?	Will you be in Russia this year?

2. Where did you go yesterday

A second way of asking the same thing asks "To where they went..." (using куда expressions). We'll learn about these verbs tomorrow.

— Ты ходил(а) на спектакль вчера?	Did you go to a performance yesterday?
— Ты ходил(а) на занятие вчера?	Did you go to class yesterday?
— Ты ходил(а) в спортзал в прошлом месяце?	Did you go to the gym last month?
— Ты ходил(а) на тренировку вчера?	Did you go to (sports) practice yesterday?
— Ты ходил(а) на репетицию вчера?	Did you go to a rehearsal yesterday?
— Ты ходил(а) на хорошую выставку в последнее время?	Have you been to a good exhibit lately?
— Ты ездил (а) в Нью-Йорк в последнее время?	Have you been to New York lately?

3. Are you going to the party tomorrow?

Here, the verb changes. More on this tomorrow; for now, answer using "иду" for the first three, and "еду" for the final example.

— Ты идёшь на спектакль завтра?	Are you going to a performance tomorrow?
— Ты идёшь в столовую на ужин сегодня?	Are you going to the dining hall for dinner today?
— Ты идёшь домой в общежитие сегодня вечером?	Are you going home to the dorm tonight?
— Ты едешь в Москву или в Петербург в этом году?	Are you going to Moscow or P-burg this year?

4. Questions

Review by answering these questions. Note that the first two are really two ways of asking the same thing. Note the question words!

— Где ты был(а) вчера?	Where were you yesterday?
— Куда ты ходил(а) вчера?	Where did you go yesterday?
— Куда ты ездил (а) в прошлом году?	Where did you go (travel) last year?
— Куда ты идёшь сегодня?	Where are you going today?
— Куда ты едешь этим летом?	Where are you going this summer?
